

MIGRATORY SCHOOL LAW IN CALIFORNIA PROVES SUCCESSFUL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 20.—Schools on wheels are a success.

To meet the growing problem of the child without a permanent home the California legislature a year ago passed the migratory school law in order to take education to those whose homes shifted so frequently they were unable to attend regular schools.

Already juvenile delinquency and the growth of lawless tendencies through lack of proper training have been greatly decreased in California by the educational opportunities offered to more than 1,000 formerly neglected children under the provisions of the law, according to a report to Governor W. D. Stephens by Georgianna C. Carden, state supervisor of school attendance.

Approximately 200 children of migratory families have been instructed under the direct supervision of the state department of education in the last year, Miss Carden said and more than 1,000 others have been helped to educational training by exacting administration of the new statute in every county in California. The report pointed out the work of educating children of migratory families is rapidly passing the stage of experimentation and that literally thousands will be given assistance during the next year.

"Because of the climatic conditions and excellent transportation facilities in California," said Miss Carden, "we have had for some years a growing migratory population, a class of agricultural workers who claim residence in no certain communities and for whose children no particular locality is responsible. Lack of education in just such cases as these gives spread to delinquency, I. W. Wism and lawless tendencies of every variety. The new state law provides educational opportunities for millions in these migratory families, for it is a well known fact that the child who cannot say 'my school' and 'my town' later has difficulty in saying 'my country'."

New Vaccination Method

Is Discovered in Paris

PARIS, July 20.—Danger of infection during surgical operations may be done away with entirely by means of vaccination, according to a report made before the Academy of Sciences by Drs. Pierre and Louis Bazy. An injection of the very microbes that cause infection properly given at a correct period before the operation may make the patient absolutely immune to the attacks of these germs, the physicians state.

ARMY TO ATTEMPT

RECORD AIR FLIGHT

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(By U. P.)—A trans-continental airship flight will be attempted by the army this fall.

The big new dirigible, the C-2, in which helium gas is employed, will be used in the attempt. The flight probably will be made in September.

Hubby Sweats Wife for Making Dishcloths of Summer Underclothes

DETROIT, July 20.—The question is: Has a wife the right to take her husband's summer underclothes in the wintertime and make dishcloths of them?

Peter Valineh of Royal Oak, says "no" and made it emphatic when he told his wife, Mary, about it by punching her in the nose. Mary, the wife, says "yes" and retaliates by having Peter chucked in jail for assault and battery. Mary is supporting the four children, while Peter cools his heels and temper behind the bars.

Likewise, Mary says, she has plans for a divorce. Which looks like the affirmative answer wins.

CHINA TO ABOLISH RUT-MAKING CARTS

Road Improvements Impossible While Thin Iron Wheels Are Used.

PEKING, July 20.—An effort will be made by the engineering department of the Peking Municipal Government to abolish the use of the famous "Peking carts" which play such havoc with the roads of the capital and which make road improvements everywhere in China almost an impossibility.

Imagine three or four tons of grain packed high on a cart of only two wheels, with those two wheels sometimes not more than an inch wide and shod with strips of iron; imagine the cutting power of those wheels and the rapidity with which the roads will be sawed to pieces, as cart after cart, drawn sometimes by as many as eight beasts of burden, pass day after day, always following the same route. In Peking the paved thoroughfares are closed to these "engines of destruction" and the struggles of the mules and horses in the deep ruts and bogs of the earth roads are incredible.

Out in the country places, where there are as yet no paved roads, there is no salvation, and as time goes by the ruts go deeper and deeper, until it is at last abandoned for new ground or sinks out of sight.

The American Red Cross, in building roads for famine relief during the last few years, has attempted to introduce broad tired wheels to replace the narrow knife-edge of those now in use. It has been found that wheels three or four inches broad, shod with broad iron band "shrunk" on, instead of nailed on, as are the strips of iron at present, will pack down and smooth the road surface with the action of rollers, and improve the condition of the road rather than harm it. No very great success, however, has attended the efforts to have the farmers introduce these means to "better roads."

China, however, is not very different from any other country, nor are the Chinese very different from other people. As in America the introduction of automobiles has brought the need for good roads acutely felt, so in China the same thing is having the same result.

Where the Peking-Hankow and the Peking-Shanghai railroads were connected last year by earth roads built by famine sufferers with the money of the American Red Cross, automobile companies have sprung up to take advantage of the commercial opportunity thus afforded, and cars are now running pretty regularly between the railway points and places midway between.

Climbing Higher Than Man Has Ever Gone Before

To reach the peak of Mt. Everest has been man's ambition for many years. Three Englishmen, Mallory, Somerville and Norton, have gone 26,800 feet, farther than man has ever gone before, without artificial supply of oxygen. They are just 2200 feet below the summit, ready to advance with tanked oxygen. This photo was taken as the expedition crossed the snow barren at Jelep La.

The expected result has been evident; this road has been well kept up by the Chinese and part of it has been surfaced with macadam.

USE AIRPLANES TO CHECK FOREST FIRES

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(By U. P.)—Seven army airplanes were assigned by the war department today to patrol the Oregon forests as a defense against forest fires.

The Oregon patrol will be conducted by the air service personnel from Crissy field, San Francisco, and Mather field, Mills, Calif. Seven pilots and 20 enlisted men have been assigned to the work.

The patrol will operate for the next 60 days, or until the end of the forest fire season, the department announced.

Lack of appropriations has limited the patrol of the forests in Oregon, the department announced.

U. S. NABS SIX.

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 20.—(By U. P.)—Six men, said to be striking railway shopmen, were arrested here today on federal warrants charging them with interfering with movements of the United States mail.

BIG EATERS GET ACID STOMACH

Take Magnesia to Neutralize the Acid and Keep Stomach Clean and Digestion Perfect.

If you're a hearty eater, if you must have three big meals a day, eat them. But after each meal you should neutralize the dangerous acids that your food forms in the stomach, says a noted authority. When your stomach is overloaded, the food contents soon sour and develop acid that paralyzes the stomach's activity long before the work of digestion can be completed. Then the stomach becomes weak and "cranky" and you are a daily sufferer from indigestion, Gas, Sourness, Bloating and after-eating pains. Your appetite goes—your sleep and wherily—and what used to be the joys of a hearty meal become a menacing nightmare.

Quickly neutralize this dangerous acid to cleanse and sweeten the stomach; to help the stomach take care of a hearty meal without pain or distress, go to your nearest drug store and get a little pure Bismarck Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take in a little hot water just after each meal. You'll be surprised how nicely this pleasant treatment works. Bismarck Magnesia, which can be found in all good drug stores, is a Chemist's product, pure and undiluted. A powerful anti-acid and stomach corrective. A simple, harmless, inexpensive and quickly effective treatment used by thousands of folks every day.—Adv.

COAL RATION SYSTEM BELIEVED CERTAIN

WASHINGTON, July 20.—A coal shortage this winter is inescapable, even if coal production could be resumed at once at full capacity. Atty. Gen. Daugherty declared today.

Other officials indicated that a coal rationing system will have to be put into effect when cold weather comes and that priority orders will have to be issued to the railroads to protect such communities as New England and the Northwest, where the shortage is expected to be acute.

YOUR DRUGGIST

Does not keep Pinkham's Compound. He sells it. During the year 1920, nearly 5,000,000 bottles of this medicine were shipped from the factory at Lynn, Massachusetts. There is also a branch in Canada and one in Mexico.

Lydell E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the largest sale of any medicine for women's ailments. Every day, more and more women are proving its worth. Made of selected roots and herbs, this compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.
